Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (ISAs), Regulation (EU) No. 537/2014 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 16 April 2014 ("Regulation (EU) No. 537/2014") and Law 162/2017 („Law 162/2017"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Separate Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the International Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including International Independence Standards) as issued by the International Ethics Standards Board for Accountants (IESBA Code) together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to the audit of the financial statements in Romania, including Regulation (EU) No. 537/2014 and Law 162/2017 and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the IESBA Code. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of matter

We draw attention to Note 32 to these separate financial statements, which presents the details and effects of the changes in presentations made during current year and correction of prior period errors. Our opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

Other matter

The Company's separate financial statements for the year ended 31 December 2023 were audited by another auditor who issued on 21 March 2024 an unmodified audit opinion and an emphasis of matter in respect of ongoing litigations impact.

Key audit matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the separate financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the separate financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

For each matter below, our description of how our audit addressed the matter is provided in that context.

We have fulfilled the responsibilities described in the “Auditor’s responsibilities for the audit of the separate financial statements” section of our report, including in relation to these matters. Accordingly, our audit included the performance of procedures designed to respond to our assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the separate financial statements. The results of our audit procedures, including the procedures performed to address the matters below, provide the basis for our audit opinion on the accompanying separate financial statements.

Description of each key audit matter and our procedures performed to address the matter

Key audit matter	How our audit addressed the key audit matter
Application of IFRIC 12 – Split Model The information presented by the Company regarding the application of IFRIC 12 is included in note 3.5 “Intangible Assets” and in note 5 “Material Accounting Judgments and Estimates in Applying Accounting Policies”, points 5.2 and 5.4.”
Accounting for service concession arrangements involves a high degree of complexity and the application of professional judgment. The Company entered into a concession agreement in 2002 for a period of 30 years for the operation of the national gas transport system. In accordance with IFRIC 12 “Service Concession Arrangements”, modernization or expansion works carried out on the concessioned infrastructure give rise to an intangible asset, a financial asset, or a combination of the two (the split model). Law 127/2014 states that, in the event of termination of the concession contract for any reason or upon expiration of the contract, the investments made by the operator are transferred to the grantor of the infrastructure or to another operator in exchange for compensation equal to the remaining unamortized regulated value established by the National Energy Regulatory Authority (“ANRE”). According to Order 41/2016 regarding the methodology for establishing regulated tariffs, the Company has obtained the right to adjust the remaining regulated value for inflation.	Our audit procedures included, among others: a) We obtained a thorough understanding of the terms and conditions related to the concession agreement. For this, we: ➤ read the service concession agreement concluded in 2002 to understand the rights and obligations of the operator, as well as the specific legislation that complements the contractual provisions; ➤ conducted interviews with the Company's management to understand the judgement applied in determining the values recorded in the financial statements as result of IFRIC 12 standard application. b) We evaluated together with IFRS Accounting Standards internal specialists, the correctness of the IFRIC 12 standard and respectively of the split model application by the management against the specifications from the concession agreement; c) We analysed the recognition criteria of the recorded financial asset, as well as its measurement;

The Company has been applying IFRIC 12, the split model, since 2010, which has led to the recognition of an intangible asset with a carrying amount of 5,117 million lei and a long-term financial asset with a carrying amount of 2,648 million lei as of December 31, 2024. Revenues within the scope of the concession include an amount of 1,876 million lei in 2024, relating to the construction costs for modernisation and expansion works carried out on the concessioned infrastructure.

Given the size of the carrying amount of these assets as of December 31, 2024, the complexity of the applicable legislative framework, and the judgments and estimates used in the application of IFRIC 12 by the Company's management, this is considered a key audit matter.

- d) in particular, we analyzed the algorithm for determining the remaining regulated value, we involved our internal valuation specialists to assist with the analysis of the discount rate applied;
- e) we verified the mathematical accuracy of the model, as well as the correctness of the hypothesis used in the model against the contractual and/or legislative specifications.

We also evaluated the adequacy of the disclosures made by the Company in relation to the requirements of IFRIC 12 and OMFP 2844/2016.

Other information

The other information comprises the Consolidated Administrators' Report as well as Remuneration Report, but does not include the separate financial statements and our auditors' report thereon. Management is responsible for the other information.

Our audit opinion on the separate financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the separate financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the separate financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Separate Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the separate financial statements in accordance with the Order of the Minister of Public Finance no. 2844/2016 approving the accounting regulations compliant with the International Financial Reporting Standards, with all subsequent amendments, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of separate financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the separate financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Separate Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the separate financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these separate financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with ISAs, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the separate financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the separate financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the separate financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the separate financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and to communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence, and where applicable, actions taken to eliminate threats or safeguards applied.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the separate financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters.
